A customized logo can now be displayed.

By using the CustomerLogo parameter added into the Web.config file, it is now possible to select a customized logo that will be displayed in the left upper part of all application pages.
The new parameter can be copied from the Web-Template.config file.

A warning message can now be displayed in the Home page.

By using the WarningMessage parameter added into the Web.config file, it is now possible to set a warning message to be shown to all users. For example, the function can be used to alert users about a temporary stop for maintenance.

Patch Situation 01.400.02.01

Note: EWC-112

Users and Administration pages must be enabled even if permissions are only for Builder or only for Catalogue.

A bug has been fixed: due to the update of the graphical interface of version 1.4.2.0, Users and Administration pages could not be accessed if permissions were only for Builder or only for Catalogue.
